Re: Buying, Selling, Leasing, Gifting of Equine

- ✓ When selling equine – provide a bill of sale to the purchaser. The bill of sale should provide proper and accurate information and description of the horse (s) including markings and brands. (if any)
- ✓ When buying equine – request a bill of sale from the seller. (same as above applies)
- ✓ When gifting equine – provide two copies of a written agreement (one for each party). This agreement should include signatures and provide terms of the gifting transaction, including any clauses that may become applicable in future.
- ✓ When leasing equine – whether you are the lessee or the leaser, do your diligence in having an agreement drafted, signed and agreed upon by all parties involved. This type of agreement should also include any clauses that may become applicable in the future.
